SPACE ODYSSEY

Growing interest in the cosmos was not just limited to NASA and Carl Sagan. Cornered in a unique part of the universe inhabitants enrolled at IHS looked towards outer regions for ideas, dreams, and the future.

Students expressed their own individual ideas when asked the question: When I think of space I think of . . .

1. Tall Flags require hours of practice to perfect their routines. Lana Mandeville shows that sometimes it gets frustrating. 2. Practicing her lines for Drama, Amy Hall doesn't want anyone to break her concentration. 3. Dale Landingham and Ean Eichel listen to their friend tell them her latest joke. 4. Lucille Collins, Rolline Wright, and Felicia Lynch get together after a long day of school. 5. Taking time out, George Thomas waits to be called back into the game. 6. The desert scenery at sunrise leaves time for peaceful contemplation.

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS

Hypothetically, "experts" told us, it is possible that there are other advanced civilizations out in the universe. It seems unlikely that we'd ever make contact with these alien life forms. Indio may have seemed like a pretty exciting place at times, but not so much that anybody would pick it for a place to park his flying saucer.

However, there were those who remained prepared . . . just in case . . . and told what they'd do if a UFO landed in their backyards.

Frank Lucia, Roger Walton, Yasmin Martin, Tom Meyer, Nancy Bushman, Victor Simmons, David Alexander and Bill Eickleman show their Rajah pride saying "we're #1!" 3. Andrea Maddox practices routines and cheers for Tall Flags. 4. An abandoned date grove gives the eerie feelings of desolation and space. 5. Jeff Schuknecht talks with a friend at lunch.

Dear Lisa, Hope I get to know you better. Have fun this summer and next year. Take care and keep smiling.

During lunch, Dina Williams laughs hysterically at her friend's teasing. 5. Students rush to the school snackateria to get lunch. 6. Where no man has gone before . . . 7. Ronni Garvey listens to the teacher explain a question.

ALIEN TERRITORY

On television, in the papers and magazines, there were always a few scientists predicting that humans would be actually living in space in the near future. Intergalactical travel didn't seem too much of a surprise. Many students had visited some alien territory themselves.

STAR TREKKING

Looking for something?

If given the chance to trek the universe, these students told what they'd hope to find:

---

The perfect place to ride motorcycles., Vinie Merlino (11)

---

A true friend., Vickie Vince (11)

Attendance counselor, Mr. Hartnett, deals with students' problems at walk-around. 5. Marching band spent many hard hours after school to make themselves an award winning group. 6. Artwork on a student's car is seen in the welding area. 7. Ruben Moreno discusses his problems with a good friend.

TURBULENT FLIGHT

Cruising through the cosmos just isn't milky ways and trying to see how many stations you can pick up on the radar. Most likely, the flight will be turbulent.

Admitting that life has its rough spots, too, students shared what the hardest part about living is.

1. Cloud formations remind some people of the spaciousness of the heavens. 2. Stacy Robinson spends time before the bell rings talking to a friend. 3. Manuel and Sal Baeza watch the crowds passing by between classes. 4. Joe Carrillo, Diral Tyler, Gary Porras and Larry Morales give their best pose. 5. Cranking his portable stereo, Gary Arias cruises on to his next class. 6. After school, Ara Najarian waits in the parking lot for a ride home. 7. Lunchtime activities are always welcome to break the sometimes tiring routine of school. Kelly Peterson and Gina Simms cheer on a friend in the banana eating contest.

Life in the hub of the universe won't be forgotten. For those who participated in school activities, there will always be good memories. An atmosphere of school spirit embodied pep rallies, dress up days, and gave high energy to special occasions such as Homecoming.

Inhabitants on campus had not only vast personal interests, but were also sensitive to the world around them.

STUDENT LIFE

HIGH-ENERGY

Behind every major event there were people who gave their time and energy to make it happen. Showing their Rajah pride were those who donned the traditional red and blue every Friday, appeared at pep rallies with uninhibited rowdiness, supported major athletic events, and volunteered to help with class activities.

These people will be remembered for driving out boredom with their spirited high-energy.

1. The Seniors' strategy is to stay mellow during assemblies to save their energy for the class competition later. 2. Despite injuries, Clarence Brown still proudly supports his team. 3. IHS drumline is a fine group of performers whose rhythm rocks the stands at halftime. 4. School spirit comes from within and results in something as special as a smile, as on Hilda Vasquez' face. 5. Varsity Cheerleaders are always rowdy trying to generate enthusiasm among the students. 6. Many girls wear the jerseys of their favorite players, as do Becky Luna and Denise Lara. 7. ASB President, Tom Tyler, takes time out after helping with decorating of the gym.

CATCH A SHOCK WAVE

A tidal wave of anticipation was building during Homecoming Week. Not just for seniors and alumni, everyone joined in for the traditional celebration.

Egg, tossing, apple dunking, and obstacle courses were just part of the lunchtime activities.

Friday's pep rally reached the crest of excitement that would ride well into the night. Skits planned by the Pep Squad were a major highlight. Music by IHS' own "Pride of the Desert" rocked the gym walls, as the Sandpipers strutted through their routines across the floor.

1. Julie Allison and Larry Espejo try to spell out 1-9-8-2 to win the lunchtime activity. 2. Stacy Trytten helps put up streamers for the dance. 3. Gina Simms, Melanie Reed, and Monica Ruzicka help with the balloons. 4. A graceful way to start the relay. 5. Competitors have to get a balloon, run back, sit on the balloon until it pops and find a number. 6. The guys help with the more rugged side of decorating. 7. John Gallegos and friends show their spirit for Homecoming Week.

SOARING SPIRITS

Fireworks cracked in the sky above the crowds and spirits soared "Over the Rainbow" on Homecoming night, October 23. Princesses were escorted around the field in shiny classic cars. The Marching Rajahs played "Over the Rainbow" while the Tall Flags saluted the royal court. Yolanda Gonzalez was crowned Queen and Tom Tyler was honored as King.

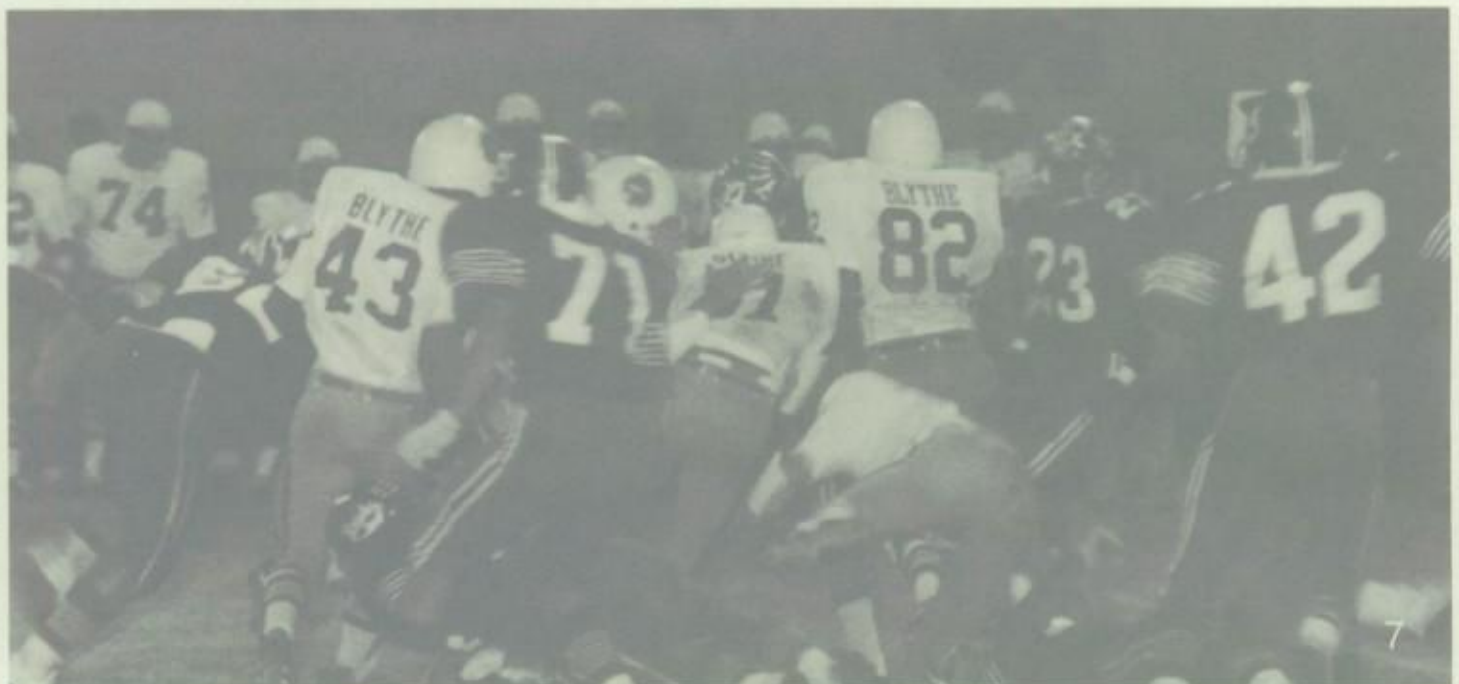

Proving to be a victorious evening, the Rajah gridders won over Brawley 14-12.

1. King and Queen of Homecoming '81 are Tom Tyler and Yolanda Gonzalez. 2. The final score, 14-12. 3. Rifle girls get ready to march off the field. 4. Cheerleaders get the crowd going and cheering. 5. Kristin Wagner, one of the drum majors, leads the band at halftime. 6. Coach, Dave Rivenes advises player number 22 on the next play. 7. The opposing team rushes to tackle a Rajah player.

CELESTIAL RAINBOW

Still riding high after a busy week of activities, the Homecoming Dance gave everyone a chance to slow down, relax, and be with that special someone. Opening the first dance, were Yolanda and Tom and the rest of the royal court. Then everyone filled the floor for the rest of the evening, dancing to the music of "Source".

All the planning and hard work by the Senior Class brought this celebration above and beyond any celestial rainbow.

1. Prince Dale Delaney and Princess Lyn Howard. 2. "Source" jams on good danceable rock 'n roll. 3. Prince David Alexander and Princess Nancy Bushman. 4. Prince Felipe Lara and Princess Julie Brown. 5. Queen Yolanda Gonzalez and King Tom Tyler open the first dance. 6. Prince Diral Tyler and Princess Marlene Wood. 7. Daphne Ellis-Cole is ready to dance the night away at her first Homecoming Dance. 8. Prince Larry Espejo and Princess Monica Hernandez. 9. Prince Guy Morris and Princess Michelle Fisher. 10. Prince Rick Vercruse and Princess Julie Allison. 11. The Royal Court of '81.

I·N·V·A·S·I·O·N·!

Emerging from their closets they came . . . it was the eve of Halloween at IHS. Fake leopard skins and black tights were only a sample of the season's most popular costume: the punk rocker. Returning from previous invasions were the hillbillies, witches, clowns, little girls with teddy bears, and even a couple of coneheads.

Almost as quickly as they came, however, they retreated to their closets until next year.

1. Unidentified "Ghoulie" hides behind a horrid mask. 2. Don Storer fills IHS' quota of one cone head (of Saturday Night Life fame) per year. 3. Dressed as a "sleez-sister" from the movie "Times Square", Lana Mandeville gives her most defiant look. 4. Cadet, Suzy Patino, sheds her uniform for a habit. 5. Thought by some cuter than any of the Varsity Cheerleaders, Carlos Gonzalez borrows his sister's uniform. 6. Revealing their true "punk" nature, Olivia Maciel, Gina Aguilar and Beatrice Chavez are complete with silver hair. 7. Contestants line up for judging of the best costume.

'LATER...GATOR

With enough La Coste shirts seen on campus to choke an alligator (so to speak), the classic look of preppiness appealed to even the most hostile anti-preppies. But, besides the crocodile, there were the traditionals such as polo shirts, Topsiders, espadrilles, penny loafers, oxford shirts, and Gucci purses.

Knickers were the big trendy item that caught on very quickly. Girls were also seen wearing bandanas that ranged in many colors, including pink and purple. Legwarmers worn over jeans were popular, too.

And what about the "too hip" sayings? Some people would easily "catch a clue" while others wandered around "clueless". When the weekends rolled around, guys would cruise Palm Canyon Drive to "scam on some chicks". Then, there were those who got "fully rad", but were just too "thrashed" to "hang" on Mondays.

Think about it — Well, gotta go . . . later!

Linda Mutisya from Kenya, and Disa Sveinsdottir from Iceland, were part of the Foreign Exchange Program. Getting the chance to know these special young ladies was a privilege. They helped native students realize that there are other regions to explore beyond Indio limits.

Linda's family and friends encouraged her to join AFS. During the beginning of the year, Linda was already involved in AFS and Maranatha! but she hoped to become active in other organizations by the second quarter.

RAJAHAN: What differences are there between Indio High and the school you attended back home?

Linda: Plenty! I had eight classes instead of six. The teachers moved around from class to class instead of the students. There were no grades (like the British system of education) and all the students wore uniforms.

RAJAHAN: Tell us about your American Family. Is there something special about them that you would like to share?

LINDA: They are the greatest family. I'm proud of them and I LOVE THEM ALL!

RAJAHAN: How has this experience of living in a different country changed your attitudes toward your outlook on life?

LINDA: It makes one know himself well and one gets the chance to use his own judgement of everything with no Mom or Dad to tell you what to do.

Disa Sveinsdottir learned about AFS from a friend who was also an exchange student to the U.S. Taking advantage of IHS' excellent sports facilities, Disa was a member of the track and field team.

RAJAHAN: How is the area you lived in different from Indio?

DISA: There it's cooler and the landscape is a lot different. People at home are more liberal.

RAJAHAN: What kind of adjustments have you had to make in everyday living since you've been here?

DISA: I have to follow other people's rules.

RAJAHAN: How do you like your American family?

DISA: They are very understanding, they do everything to help me and they do everything to make me feel at home.

AROUND THE WORLD . . .

One of the most shocking news stories was the assassination of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in fall of 1981. His death was mourned by many leaders all over the world.

Here in the states was the biggest recession since the Great Depression. This had an affect on housing, especially in the Indio community. Building slowed down and interest rates soared to as high as 17%. The outlook for students who planned to buy their own homes in the near future was not promising.

Those who planned on getting grants for college also ran into problems. Congress passed Reagan's plan to cut federal scholarships.

1. A rare view of NASA's space shuttle while landing in the Southern California desert. 2. Mr. Forrest finds time to offer free advice to concerned students.

Making their way through that sometimes obscure (but never forgotten) region in life called "high school," were the SENIORS. Upon graduation from one of America's finest institutions, they entered into the vast cosmic regions of life to explore the new worlds that awaited them.

Leading these inhabitants in their final light year of the journey were President Lyn Howard, Vice-President Eugene Coley, Secretary Monica Hernandez, Treasurer Melinda Keck, and Director of Publicity Marlene Wood.

Jissa,
 Hi, well we made
 it through knowles.
 But we still have the test.
 I'm glad you ~~the~~ think Max Cisneros, I wish I could meet him but,
 alas he graduates tomorrow
 and I still don't know him.
 but I wish I could go to graduation, to at least see him. But I can't go so see you next year. Have a bitchin summer.
 friends

With one of the best reputations in the galaxy for their athletics program, various IHS teams trekked their way to victories, with league championships and — more notably — Varsity Football's claim on the CIF Title. Inhabitants explored their physical strength, as well as working together as a team unit.

LIMITLESS ENERGY TO WIN

SPORTS

Hope was on every varsity football players' mind, hope of winning a championship. They did it, too! With hard work and dedication they earned the name CIF Southeastern Conference Champions for their second time in three seasons.

With an outstanding 12-2 win-loss record, their only losses to CIF finalists and CIF champs. There were many players that received recognition. Two were Al Walls and George Thomas, All CIF and All League. Other All League players were Victor Simmons, Frank Lucia, John Gallegos, Mike McIntyre, and Ken Kettler. Kettler was also chosen All CIF and All County. Coaches Dave Rivenes, Rick Holman, Gil Morrujo, and Ed Munson should be recognized, too, for their hard work. They indeed are champs!

RUNNING ACROSS THE TERRAIN

Gutty performances and hard work by the boys Varsity Cross Country team led them to another D.V.L. title. Leading runners were, Jesse Contreras, a four year varsity letterman who finished his season by winning second place in the C.I.F. 2A finals. Outstanding runners were Tino Esquivel, Joe Gonzalez, and Ogie Gonzalez each of them two year varsity runners who gave their competition a race till the end.

Great team effort and team spirit helped the girls' cross country run to a terrific season. Coach Ferranti proudly stated, "They are a team of the future and have showed a lot of courage and dedication. Though lacking experience they make up for it in courage and enthusiasm." Anna Casillas and Disa Sveinsdotter were recognized for being the most courageous and finest runners of the team. Also recognized were Brooke Wilson and Cindy Green as very hard workers.

SPIKING IT WITH A COSMIC PUNCH

Indio High varsity volleyball team had another successful season in 1981. The team was a young team with five starters returning in 1982. This year's team was led by senior team captain Julia Allison and sophomore Gretchen Dewitte, with both girls receiving all league honors. The other team members were Juniors Myra Avila, Janine Gioia and Leenn Waren, Sophomore Patti Held and freshman Doreen Tudor. With six returning players from 82's team Indio is looking to bring the D.V.L. championship back to Indio in "81."

Under the supervision of Coach Dennis Juhola, the junior varsity netters compiled a 9-9 overall win loss record in which they were credited third place in Desert Valley League standings. Players honored for an outstanding season were Natalie Rue, Most Valuable Player, Brenda Neyer, Coaches Award; Christy Eustice, Most Inspirational; and Lisa Sth, Most Improved. The team's league record was an even five wins and five losses.

"Splash! Off the water," the mighty Aqua Rajahs compiled a 13-10 overall season record and went all the way to the second round in the CIF playoffs. Coach Grimm boasted, "Early in the season we were inexperienced with only three players with varsity experience but were very talented and ended the season in the top ten CIF rankings." Guy Morris was the leading scorer and had the honor of being chosen on the all CIF first team. Other honors were Larry Sanders, all CIF third team, including the coaches award, and Scott McClelland, CIF honorable mention and most improved player award.

YOUNG H<sub>2</sub>O PHENOMENALISTS

"Phenomenal" described the JV waterpoloists as they earned first place in Ivy League Play-Offs with an undefeated record. Pat Dougherty, Eric Ulrich, and Robert Pistey were chosen as the outstanding players of the team and Ara Najarian earned the special coaches award. The poloists' overall standings were 10 wins and 2 losses.

Coach Tom Grimm also commended his younger Aqua Rajahs, "They're one of the best frosh-soph teams I've had the opportunity to work with." Not an understatement, they came in 2nd place in league play with an outstanding record of 4-1. Jon Mitchell and Lal Sidhu led the rams as co-most valuable players and Lal was also voted as setter along with Danny Brown. Their overall record was 13 wins and only 3 losses.

BEST TO HIT THE MATS

Praised as one of the most promising teams of JV Wrestlers, Coach Allen Layne applauded, this team as "probably the best JV team Indio has put on the mat." Not an unwarranted statement, they ended a near perfect season with only placing a second at the 32-team Bonita Tournament, and firsts at Brawley, Victor Valley, Colton, and Indio Tournaments not to mention their undefeated record in DVL and dual matches.

Tim Myers was JV's Most Valuable Player, while Ed Perez was both Most Improved and Most Inspirational.

For the first time ever the Soccer team won the DVL title. Leading these unsung heroes was Jesse Contreras, who Coach Ray Rodriguez also noted as the "inspirational voice" of the team. Top scorer was Raul Mendoza, followed respectively by Jose Olivas and Camerino Leyva, Jesus Preciado was unofficially hailed the "defensive terror."

Young, but competitive, the Golf Team could hold their own among the best in Southern California. Hoping for another DVL title, and a possible position in CIF, Coach Drinkworth felt the team would repeat the success of past seasons in top state finishes. Leading the team was senior Barrett Johnson. Bob Swain and Hugh Borthwick were hopeful of being state contenders. Chris Astorga was a promising freshman that would help the team. Other outstanding players were Karl Kirsch, Don Perry, and Russell Carlson.

HEAVY CONTENDERS

"If we work hard we should be a strong contender for the DVL title," commented Coach Salazer on the Boys' Track team at the beginning of the season. And this confident assumption was probable with a strong group of returning athletes. Most notable was Jesse Contreras who was the first person to letter twelve times in the history of IHS. Robert Cotton was trying to break his own record on the triple jump, but Gabe Espinoza, another excellent jumper, was a heavy contender. Top sprinters were George Thomas and Ray Shirley; Ray was also top relay man.

"It will be interesting to see how we as a team can jel in such a short time — 5 weeks before league opens" observed Coach George Cadiz about the Girls' Track team. Despite the youngness of the team (24 freshmen), he felt they had surprising potential.

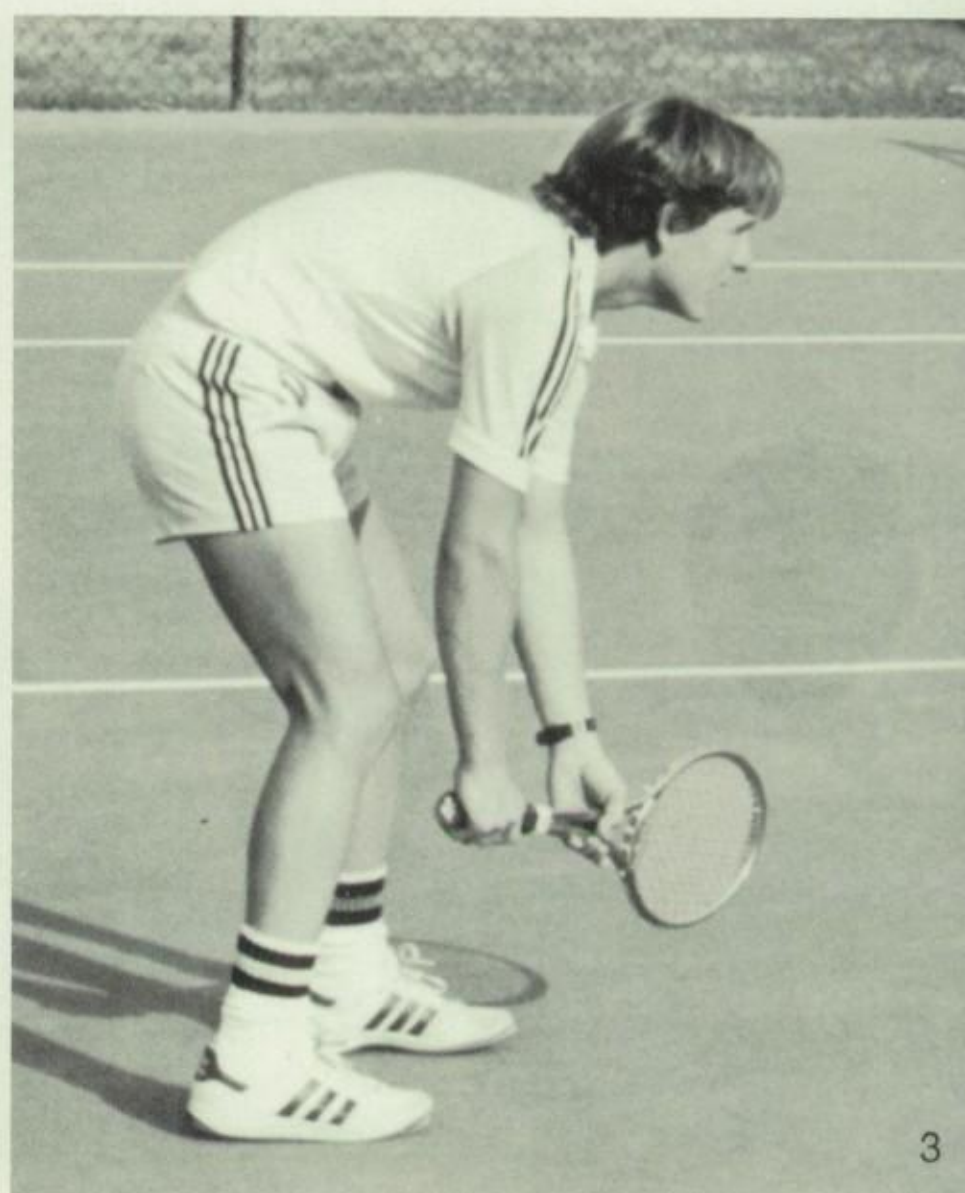

Leadership generated from the few veteran members, such as Ana Casillas, one of the top runners, and Terena DeWitte, a dedicated athlete. Rolline Wright, a 330-yard hurdler, was another athlete that had potential to surprise the league.

OUT OF LOVE

"The Indio Tennis Team has never won a tennis championship, but this is our year. We're going to win it all!" Those were the words of Coaches Geroge Areu and Everett Brunelle Sr. The team had outstanding players such as Everett Brunelle, a nationally ranked player and John Paul Mitchell and Billy Andrews, two exceptional freshmen. Co-captain Bill Bonette and second year varsity player Eric Peterson were very versatile players.

BATTING WITH THE ODDS

With five starters returning from the previous year, Coach Craig Guenther hoped his Varsity Softball team would recapture the DVL title. Outstanding players were: Becky Luna, who was DVL All League in 1981; Natalie Rue, returning starting catcher; Jill Carmona, returning starting infielder.

The air is tense as the batter awaits the pitch.

After coming off an undefeated season the next season is always tough, but the JV Softball team, consisting of powerful hitting and a strong pitching staff, was in contention for the DVL crown once again.

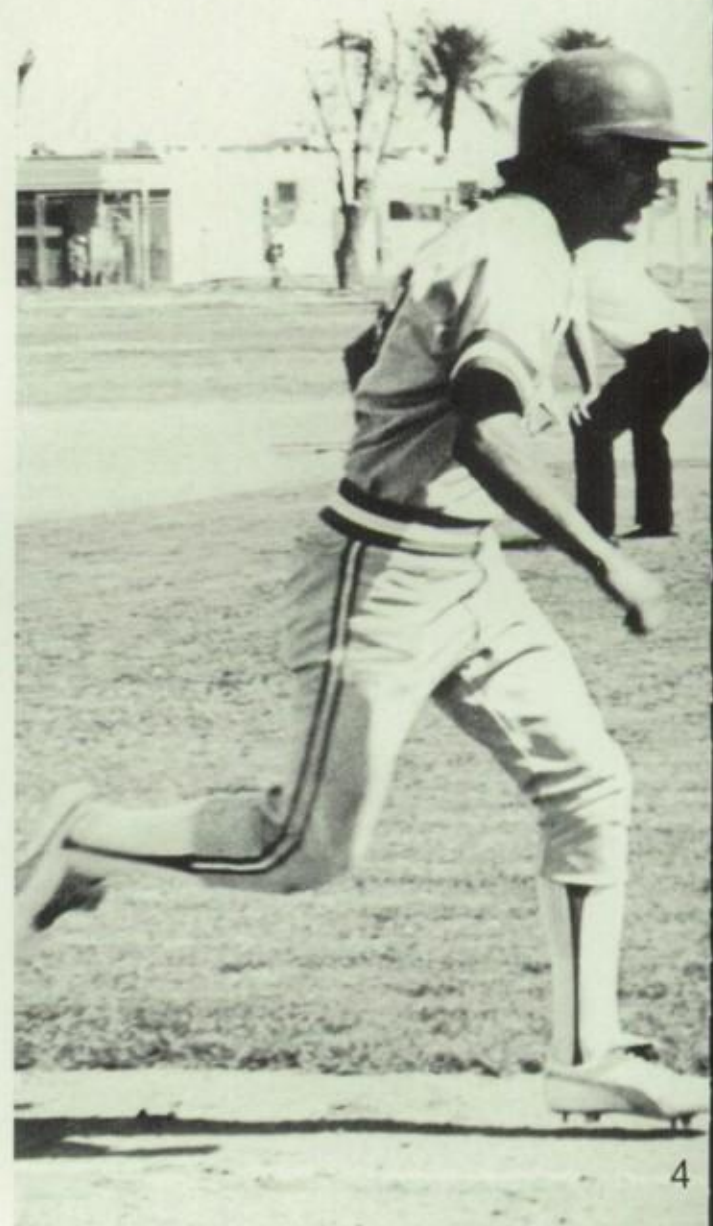

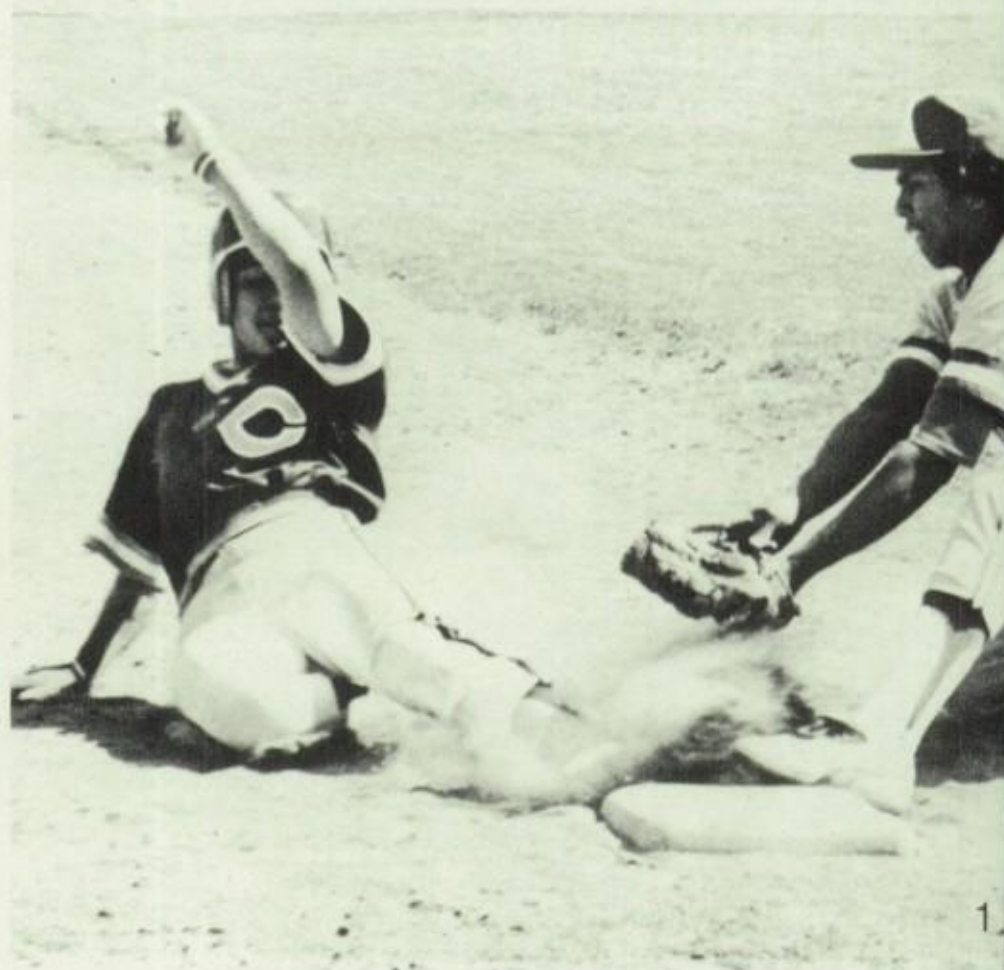

To learn to play well together and eliminate mistakes was the team goal for the Girls' Freshmen Softball team. Both catcher Doreen Tudor and pitcher Tammy Mathers proved to be outstanding players. Coach Ed Roze felt, "by the time they reach the varsity level they will have an idea of team concept."

Working for the league championship, the Varsity Baseball team had the potential for a banner year. Coach Marrujo commended his players early in the season for their ability and for being one of the best senior ball clubs to hit the campus.

Commenting on his team, Marrujo pointed out his prime players; Danny Jones, pitcher; Carlos Rangel, infielder; Joe Duran, power-hitter; Joe Carrillo, best hitting average. Craig Harvey and Todd Jackson, only juniors, had the best potential for making All DVL.

CRUISING THE WATER LANES

Led by Erik Jensen and Guy Morris, the Indio High Aqua Rajahs gained a back to back win-loss record of 11 and 1. The confident Coach Grimm revealed, "I feel this is the strongest team I've coached since coming to Indio High." Other prominent swimmers were Steve Duran, Derenik Najarian and Larry Sanders.

While under the direction of Coach Tom Grimm, the Boys' JV Swim team posted an overall record of 11 and 1. Team standouts were Sophomores Eric Kirsch, Tom Rice, and Martin Virga. Junior Ara Najarian and freshman Rick Lester proved to be excellent all-around swimmers.

Rebuilding with a predominantly junior team, Coach Lowell felt his swimmers had the potential to repeat their second place standing in the Ivy League from last season. Those expected to qualify for CIF were Melanie Reed, Angie Garcia, Dana Waggoner, and Allison Danchak.

1. The girls on the swim team work out in the weight room after school. Here Angie Garcia is bench pressing weights. 2. # CLINGING TO THE IVY

Continuing that trek in life, more commonly known as "the high school years," were the underclassmen. The freshmen began this cosmic journey somewhat apprehensive about the vast unknown territory of learning and life awaiting them. In mid-voyage were the sophomores and juniors who became well adapted to the environmental pressures of exams and weekend homework.

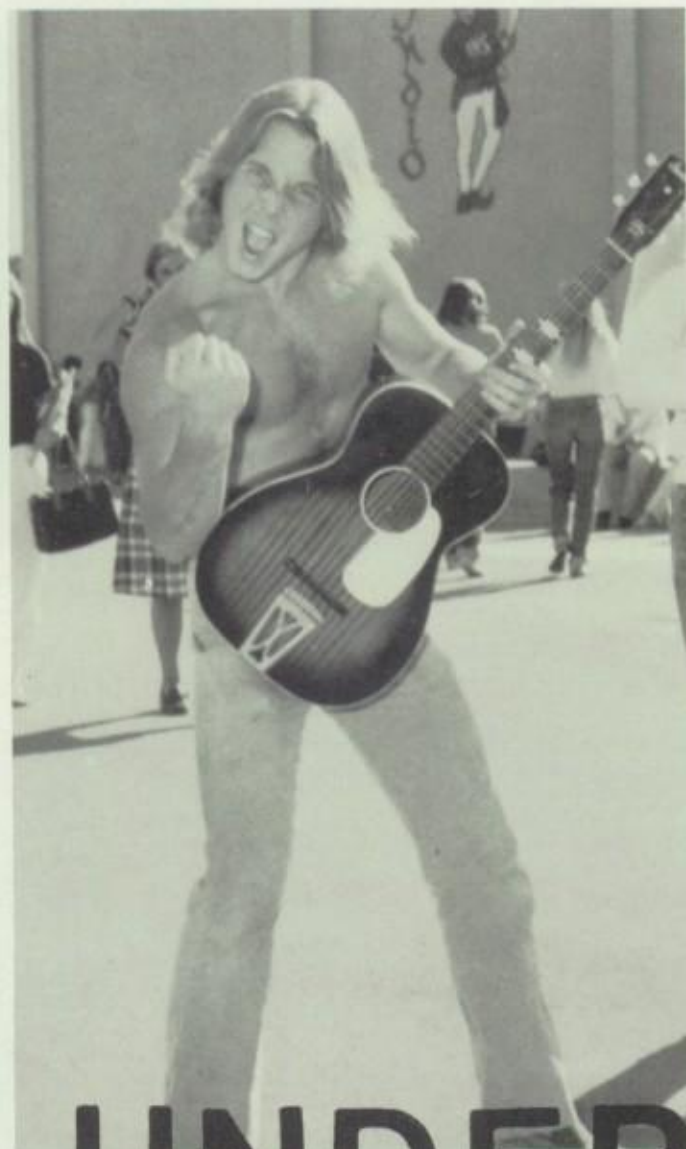

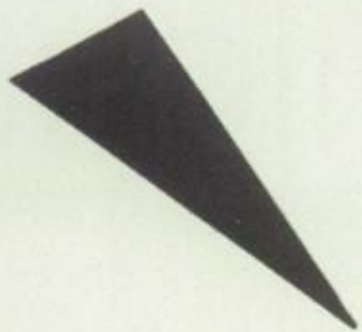

Despite that nebulous cloud of confusion that often attacked unannounced during classtime, all desperately fought to maintain a state of curiosity and willingness to learn.

FRESHMEN

This poster convinced many students to run for class office at the beginning of the year.

At times, many freshmen must have thought the first light year of their cosmic journey through high school would be eternal. But, alas, they soon adapted to the terrestrial environment. They interacted by having t-shirt sales, noontime activities, and working with campus beautification. Leaders working with the space plebes were; President, Curtis Foster; Vice-President, Tina Sandoval; Treasurer, Carlos Gonzales; Secretary, Martha Calderon; and Director of Publicity, Vicki Guitron.

QUEST FOR LIFE

*As the red star orbits
close to Pern,
The deadly silver threads
fall and burn.
The dragons are ready;
the riders await
The flight of their lives
that will sign their fate.
Catch those threads
with flaming breath;
The dragons and men
do their best.
This way and that
the dragons dive,
The silver threads falling like icy knives.
Finally, it's over;
the battle won there,
The weary partners
fly to their weyr.*

The Little Dipper,
and the planet Mars.
Will we ever live in such a place,
with stars that shine so bright?
On some planet yet to be found,
will we sometime light?
It's hard to imagine, twenty years
from now,
whether if on earth I shall be.
For I'll try to survive somewhere,
somehow,
and to reach my new destiny.*

ONCE . . .

Reminiscing always of the days gone by,
 days of his stardom in a star-filled sky.
 Once he was the brightest,
 once he was the best,
 Once he was immortal,
 but all that's in the past.
 He started like any other — just a twinkle
 in the sky.
 But they said he had that certain sparkle packed within his eye.
 They said he had the potential.
 They said he had the skill.
 They said he could be the greatest.
 If he only had the will.
 Well, he heard what they were saying —
 about his certain flair.
 So he made his move on history —
 he now would take the dare
 He certainly was the brightest.
 He certainly was the best.
 He certainly seemed immortal.
 He had outshone all the rest.
 Oh, but it was glorious — his rising to the throne.
 But that is all behind him as he sits there all alone.
 Once he was the brightest.
 Once he was the best.
 Once he wasn't a little dwarf,
 who's duller than the rest Reminisces now of the days that are ova,
 The Wonderful days before the supernova.

SPACE

A void in space,
 where planets hang.
 A time or place?
 None known for sure.
 A small ship travels,
 from star to star,
 Visiting planets,
 near and far.
 Another travels,
 through time's door,
 To visit a place,
 never seen before.
 It is a mystery,
 to all mankind.
 We'll search for an answer,
 till the end of time.

DRAGONSONG

They come on wings, in silent flight, deep from the dark and endless night.
And as they roam the wide black sky
you can hear their loud and shrill cry.
Their song calls to all mortal men
"Beware the dragon and its den."
They prey upon men within their reach and then let out a curdling screech;
So take care, my friend; keep safe and strong.
And beware the dreaded
"Dragonsong."

The most curious inhabitants ever encountered were the faculty. They inspired the younger inhabitants to be questioning, serious, and involved. Without the trail of knowledge passed on by these highly intellectual beings, young scholars would be left in an ultimate void. The entire star systems acknowledge the Faculty's "atomic"-like energy.

THE FORMULA

Chairman of the Science Department, Don Dutcher, explained that in this age of scientific advancement, the department seeks to develop attitudes, interest and appreciation of the subject. Introduction to Science (Ideas, Earth or Physical) are required for graduation. Students heading for college continued on in Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

Health was a mandatory course. General Science, Everyday Physics and Practical Chemistry were electives offered along with the popular course, Psychology.

WHAT'S MY FUNCTION?

The main goal of the Math Department is to provide an opportunity for each student to develop mathematic skills so they can function properly in society. Everyone was required either to take a skills class or pass a screening test. Then students chose either a course in Algebra or Consumer Math.

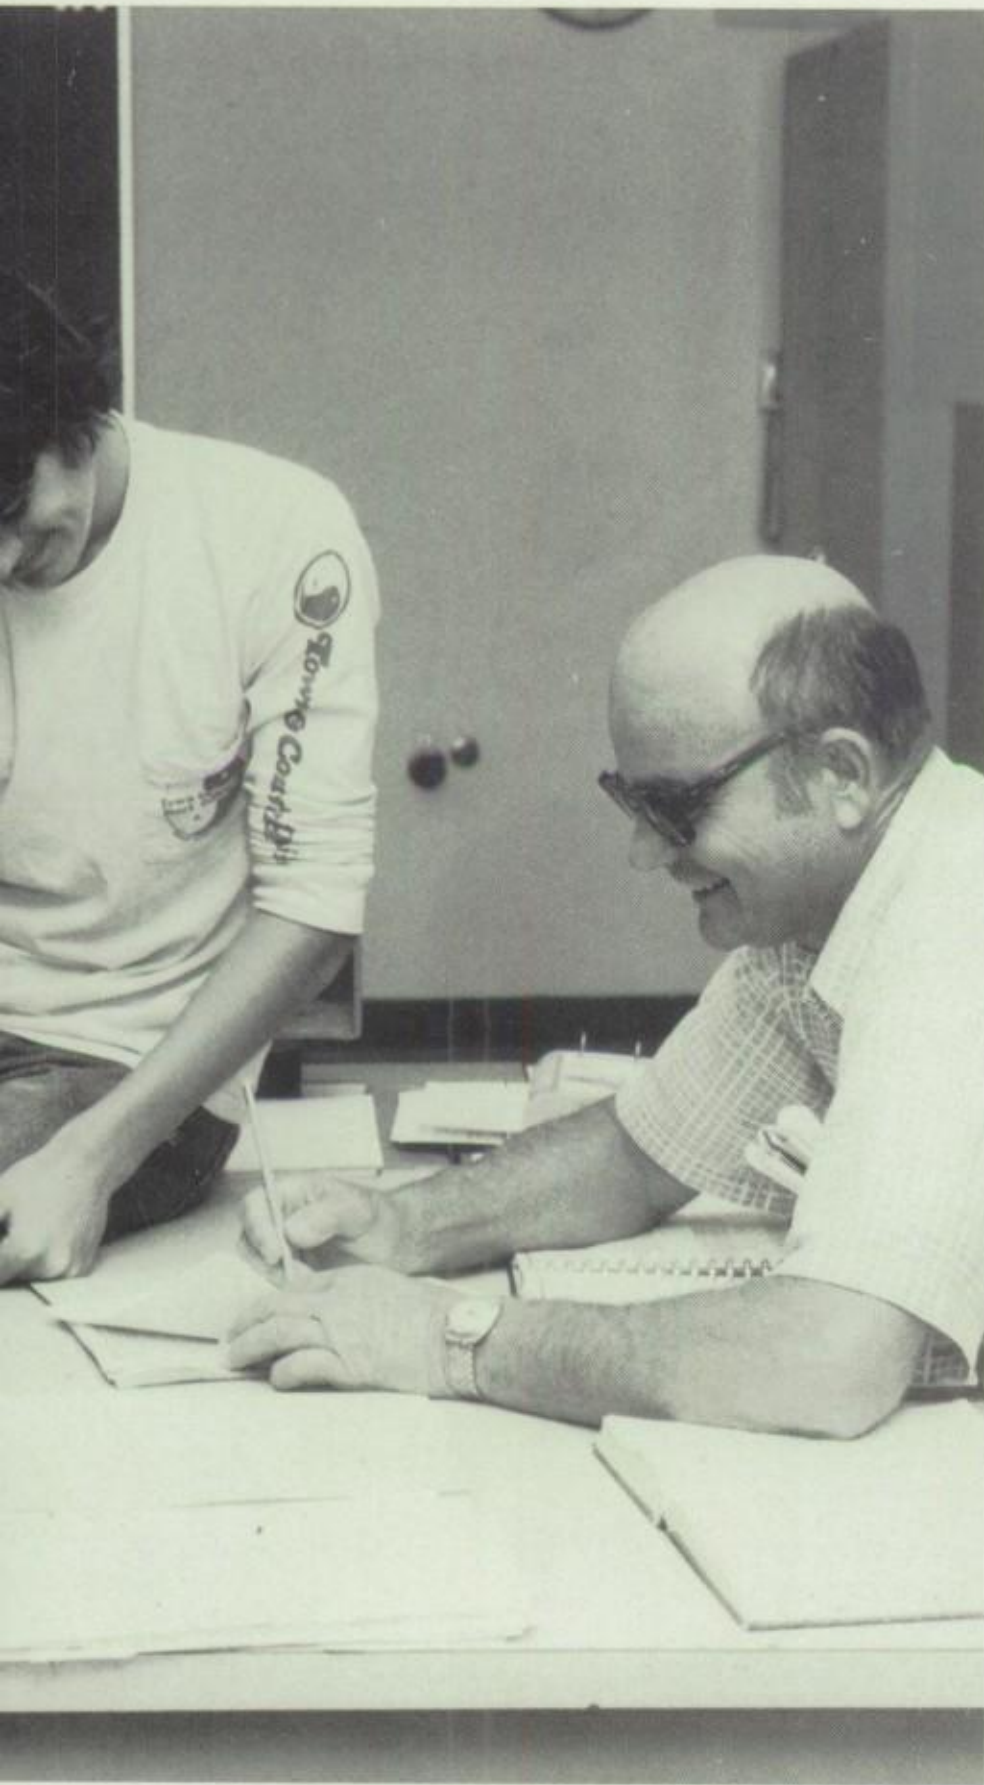

College bound students went on to take selected courses in Geometry, Intermediate Math, and Pre-Calculus. Marian Marietta, Department Chairman, stated that "the University of California system is considering requiring 3 years of high school math for entrance." This would be effective for those graduating in 1984.

BEYOND THE LOCKER ROOM

Department Chairman, Don Burson, explained that the goals of the Physical Education Department were to create interest in participation, assume responsibility in and out of the locker room and to learn discipline and self-discipline.

Freshmen and sophomores were required to take Physical Education with an emphasis in team sport. For those who enjoy the sports curriculum, electives were offered to juniors and seniors in individual sports such as tennis, racquetball, swimming or any team sport.

Promoting the awareness and appreciation of the fine and performing arts for students as well as community was the goal of the Fine Arts Department. One particular example of achievement of this goal was the advancement of the marching band, under the direction of Jim Hageter, which consistently placed high honors in tournaments. (See club section p. 258.)

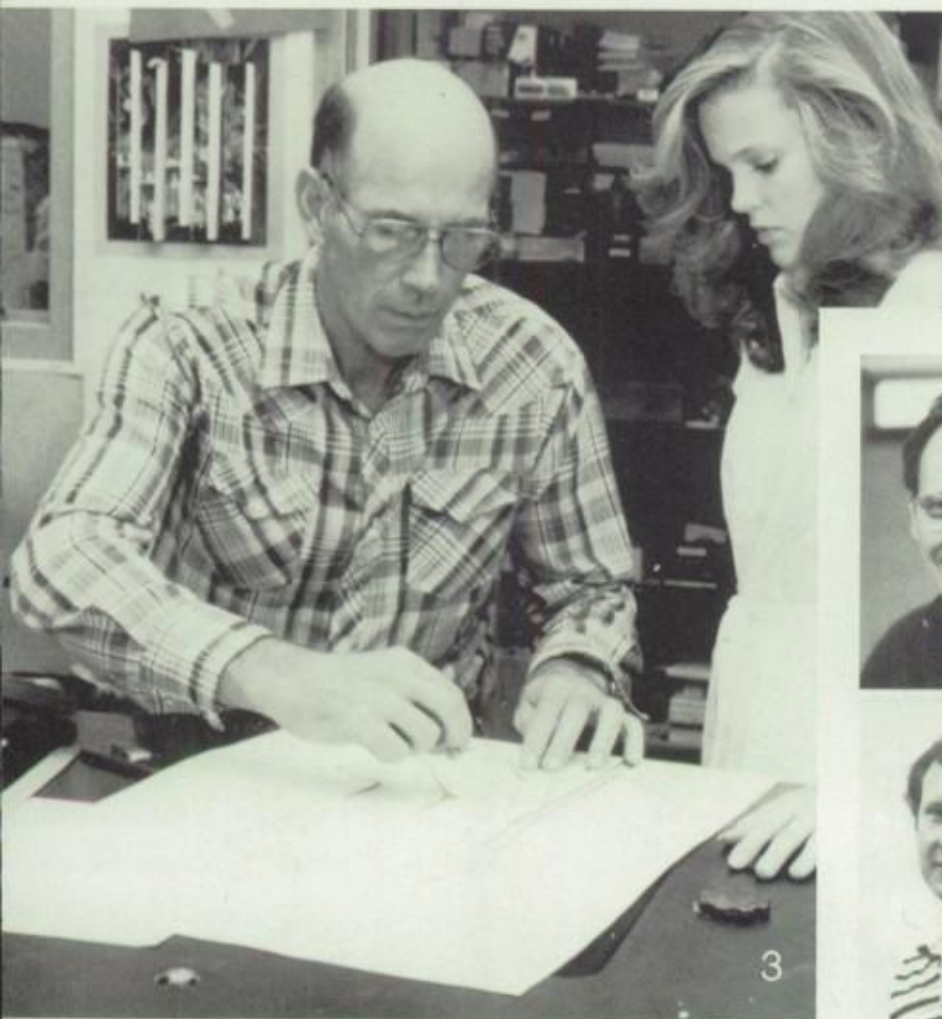

Elective courses offered a selection that touched most of the students' interests; Art, Band, Ceramics, Annual Staff, Photography, Choir, and Guitar. Department chairman, Garth Vibel, pledged that "The Fine Arts Department will continue to strive to meet the needs of the student body." (For examples of student art work, turn to Fine Arts, p. 218.)

MARCHING LUMINARIES

The Band and Drill Team represented the school and community at various sporting events and functions. They gave service furnished with entertainment, under the leadership of the band's majors: John Davis and Kristin Wagner. They were directed by Jim Hageter, who led them to many advancements.

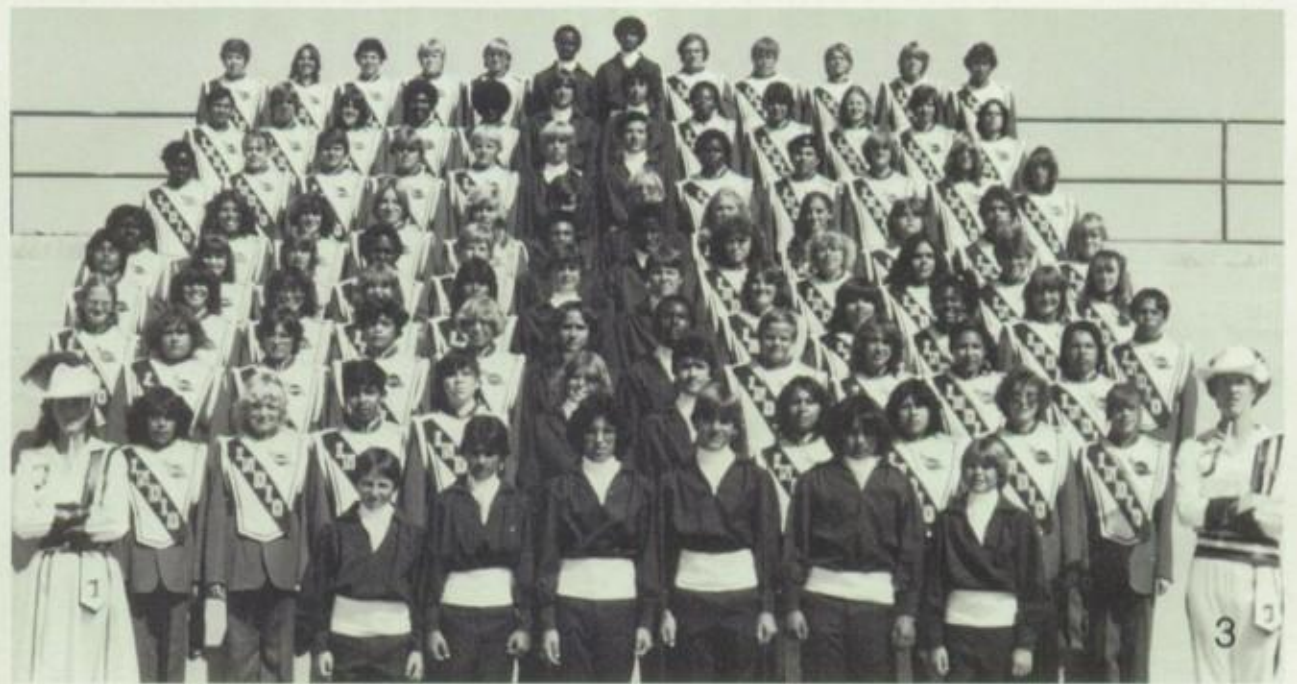

The Sandpipers, directed by Lois Sorenson, upheld their status as a leading drill team. Their superiority was mainly attributed to their Flag Drill Leaders: Christi Bennett, Joanne Alvarez, and Andrea Maddox, along with Rifle Leaders: Angela Carrillo and Patti Diener.

1. The Marching Band and Sandpipers cheer on the football team at a home game. 2. It's difficult to await the judges' decision at a competition. 3. The 1982 Marching Band, also known as the "Pride of the Desert." 5. With new outfits and dynamic new routines, it's easy to understand why the Sandpipers are trophy winners. 6. Marsha Finn concentrates on her eight-count. 7. The forty-two talented men of the Sandpipers. 8. Precision and dedication are two valuable qualities of the award winning IHS Marching Band.

Pep Club provided the opportunity for all students to participate in school activities by working together, sharing ideas and generating school spirit. They sponsored the Turkey Pop dance and held car washes.

The Mat Maids, with their never ending battle to promote interest in Indio High Wrestling Program, were active before, during and after season with fundraisers, which included balloon, button, beef stick, calendar, pop corn, and snow corn sales.

REACHING OUT

Marantha!, a non-denominational club that sought to provide fellowship, Bible study, and fun for Christian rajahs was considered a force for good, and for God on campus as well as the community. They had guest speakers, potlucks and their activities throughout the year from which they gained friendships.

People to People continued communication with foreign cultures and developed lasting friendships.

During the summer of 1982, approximately 10 students from IHS will travel to Japan, South Korea, The Peoples Republic of China, and Taiwan. They will have private homestays and visit historical and cultural sights.

PRANCING AMONG THE COSMOS

Under the instruction of Dorothy Boettger, beginning, intermediate, as well as advanced dancers were exposed to a professional perception of the art. With everyday practice they learned and perfected the skills of their craft while envisioning themselves to one day be in "The Nutcracker," which they watched in San Diego on December 12th. On May 5th, they coordinated and performed their show, "Sew Fantastic."

The Aeneadae (Latin), German, Spanish and French clubs exposed students to the cultures as well as the languages. Each different from the other, they found activities to promote their interests.

Aeneadae, who encouraged the appreciation of Roman culture and heritage brought together members, who shared their interest. They had field trips throughout the year.

German Club, with an interest and understanding of other cultures as well as their own, promoted student involvement in school-related functions. They attended the Oktoberfest, a German seminar in UCLA, and skied at the tram.

The French Club and French Honor Society members as well, promoted interest in the French language. They held a car wash in October, sold grams in December, took a ski trip in February and planned a trip for San Felipe, Mexico.

Sponsoring chip sales and other activities, the Spanish Club and Spanish Honors earned enough money to take various cultural trips. They visited Los Angeles' Olvera Street, Mexicali, and spent an evening dining at Las Casuelas.

C. C.C.; A group of young men and women who continued the tradition of excellence set by their fine service and performance. Motivated by Mr. Doug Cooper, leadership, citizenship, and patriotism and basic Military knowledge was learned. They participated in drill competition, shooting matches, leadership school, bivouacs, summer camp, survival training, and field trips to Military bases. They consistently brought home top honors.

The CCC performed services on campus including parking lot and security patrols, color guard, drill team and honor guard. They have become a much respected organization.

ZOOT SPACE-SUIT?

With a common interest for the Chicano student, the Mecha, Como Somos, and Cuauhtemoc clubs were very innovative and productive under the supervision of Mr. Art Duenas and Mr. Al Fuller.

Mecha officers worked to include as many members in various activities as possible, and encouraged members to go to college. They attended conferences and toured different college and university campuses.

In October they visited the "Gazo" art gallery and saw the world premier of the movie, "Zoot Suit." They sponsored activities throughout the year including a Cinco de Mayo dance on May 7. This was the first year they purchased club t-shirts with the Mecha emblem and logo. All this was possible through car washes, chip sales, button sales, and dedications. Their work with the faculty, community, and administration was clearly visible with the results they brought.

The Cuauhtemoc club pursued individual cultures, and backgrounds. Their expressions are shown by beautiful murals in room 15, where a composite of artists whose styles and techniques undoubtedly reveal a common conception of realism, surrealism, and naturalism. Cuauhtemoc allows students to express themselves.

Como Somos makes the effort to enlighten today's Spanish speaking student about the things which surrounds and interests him. Publication of the magazine was possible with the cooperation, effort, ability, and motivation of its staff and advisor, Mr. Al Fuller. The bilingual magazine presented its fourth annual "Como Somos Award Nite," on May 7.

CULTURAL INHABITANTS

Advised by Ray Adams, the Black Student Union members had a common interest. Their goal was to work on problems which involve today's black student.

Model United Nations promoted student awareness of the workings of international government. MUN assisted members in gaining understanding of the current world problems. They attended conferences in Washington, D.C., Riverside and Fresno.

BACK TO THE GOOD EARTH ...

Future Farmers of America, under the supervision of Vicki Hayashi and Melissa McBride, developed agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship among students. They trained students in careers relating to agriculture. The students competed at the Los Angeles County Fair, the National Date Festival, and other competitions. They participated in the Southern California Leadership Conference, and the FFA State Convention in San Luis Obispo. Sponsoring the annual Christmas canned food drive, they helped the needy in Indio. Projects related to livestock and plants were also developed furthering the group's benevolent cause.

Future Homemakers of America helped create a better world through successful home economics. They visited the Los Angeles Garment District, held candy sales, and had competitive entries at the National Date Festival. Sandy Lutes was the advisor for the FHA.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America provided students with a chance to excel, compete, and enjoy the vocational field of their choice. They attended the Regional VICA Competition at Long Beach, and the State VICA Competition in Anaheim.

NOVAS, ETC ...

The Student Store, supervised by Doug Adams, is open to students' needs. They have a wide variety of school supplies, shirts, and snacks to choose from.

The Ski Club, headed by Bob Costa and Scott Shoemaker, is one of the newest clubs on campus. They have already acquired many enthusiastic members and are now one of the largest clubs.

The Baseball Club, led by Gil Marrujo, spends much of its time doing fundraisers and lunchtime activities.

The Sensations, conducted by David Nelson, is another new club on campus. It teaches its members to accept and practice the principles of equal rights, opportunity and treatment in Government.

LAST WORDS . . .

"TOTO, I'VE A FEELING WE'RE NOT IN INDIO ANYMORE"

Flipping through your Rajahan should always be enjoyable, even ten or twenty years from now. And (believe it or not), it will increase beyond the original purchase price.

You have probably noticed some changes in this edition. Student Life was established to focus on particular campus activities as well as after school hours. Hopefully this section will be expanded in next editions to more effectively cover the wider range of tastes and lifestyles of the student body.

The theme, "Space Odyssey," broke away from the usual design of the Rajahan. Campus traditionalists may be upset, but we wanted to reflect the startling changes in the times of 1982. Sometimes the slow easy pace of the Coachella Valley had a slight numbing effect on our outlooks on life; it was easy to forget there was life beyond the "hub." But over those foothills a whole world awaits.

Explore the possibilities.

— IHS Annual Staff

1. Rajahan Staff: Kristie Skomsvold (3-d shades); Michelle Fisher (welding gear); Advisor Judy Jones (kite); Kelly Shea (karate garb); Lisa Powers (shovel); Leticia Pena (sitting); Christie Jeran (Scuba); Sheila Johnson (front); Natalee Rowland (butterfly net); Debbie Thomas (pom-pom); Becky Privett (rake); Gayle Leckington (hat). 2.

Lisa Powers reassures her dog that the staff will find its way back from left field. 3. Debbie Thomas, Mrs. Jones, and Leticia Pena take a break after trying to organize the confusion on club photo day. 4. Stephen Brown is one of the staff's excellent photographers. 4. Christy Jeran always explores the realms of comedy.

Beyond the campus limits lies a world of commerce. Survival is dependent upon trade with super markets, gas stations, auto repairs, and record stores. Needs ranged from bread for the kids to fuel injection for the family Mazda.

So next time you get the munchies after a tiring space trek or your flying saucer needs maintenance, refer to your RAJAHAN Advertising section.

And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.*

*But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turns again home.*

*Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark.*

*For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.*

— Alfred, Lord Tennyson

COLOPHON, ETC.

This book did not produce itself magically overnight (although at times many of us wished it had), but it took many months of planning and putting together. I applaud the staff for their patience in working together. I also thank my co-editor, Sheila Johnson, for supporting my ideas and for her organization where my mind left off!

But if only one person could be thanked, it would be our advisor, Judy Jones. She unselfishly worked with all the staff, including on her own time to make sure everything was organized. Even despite pressures from unfinished deadlines and red-tape complications, her patience and dedication held as an example to us all.

To Lisa well I don't you very well but I know you enough to say your really nice and I hope to see you around Love Judy

To Lisa
 my best friend
 you are such a great person. Stay in touch.
 and I won't forget you ever, I hope summer we could go shopping for something! I'm really
 proud of you and Duane!
 and have another GREAT year
 #1 in sandpipers! (you deserve
 it)! I have to go! (sorry it's so short)
 Love your Sis Sherry

To Lisa,
 WHAT A TERRIFIC YEAR!!
 I know I haven't really talked to you all year, maybe after the summer we could go shopping
 for something! I'm really
 proud of you and Duane!
 and have another GREAT year
 #1 in sandpipers! (you deserve
 it)! I have to go! (sorry it's so
 short)
 Love, 'SS"
 Betty

 Q.S. ~~FLK~~ + your ~~6SS~~ OFF which I know you will call me during the summer time #342-708

BARF OUT!

I'm sure, Lisa, you must be CRAZY to HAVE me write in your Annual.
But if you DIDN'T how would you feel without my $1,000,000.00 signature

But lets be serious
you AND I HAVE HAD some Really good times in MATH Talking About Sex AND other perverted subjects. In terms, we HAVE HAD One Hell of an
YEAR, AND I Bet you enjoyed every moment of it.

LISA, you ARE One Hell of a girl, good looks, good personality, everything you want is at your fingertips. Best Wishes. forever Take your One A DAY AND see you next YEAR.

Lisa,

Remember in Good One,
Jefferson... with Vans, guys
and OP shorts; Runk Rock etc. - And the crazies - I'll always remember how sweet you are.

Love Always

Jennifer

P.S.

Remember.

Lisa,
will all see you this summer
hopefully, take care my-biz marriage.

Love ya,
Jay Wilson.

Love Always, XXX
Jay Wilson
Don't forget about our date
DEAR.
